

The 4-3-3 formation is one of the most popular football formations. It has: - 1 goalkeeper - 4 defenders - 3 midfielders - 3 attackers The center backs protect the goal and build from the back. The full backs provide width and support attacks. The midfield consists of: - Defensive midfielder: protects the defense and controls the tempo. - Two central midfielders: help in attack and defense. The three attackers are: - Left winger: creates chances and attacks from wide areas. - Right winger: provides speed and creativity. - Striker: finishes attacks and scores goals. Advantages: - Strong attacking width. - Good midfield control. - Creates many passing options. Weaknesses: - Space can appear behind attacking full backs. - Requires midfielders with high stamina.
